

MLCAD 2022

Call for Papers

4th ACM/IEEE Workshop on Machine Learning for CAD
September 12-13, 2022
Live in Snowbird, Utah!

MLCAD Workshop

The workshop focuses on Machine Learning (ML) for all aspects of CAD and electronic system design. The workshop is sponsored by both the ACM Special Interest Group on Design Automation (SIGDA) and the IEEE Council on Electronic Design Automation (CEDA). The workshop program will have keynote and invited speakers in addition to technical presentations. MLCAD 2022 will be held physically in Snowbird, Utah.

Paper Submission:

July 1, 2022

Notification:

August 1, 2022

Camera Ready Version:

August 15, 2022

Website:

Papers should cover one or more aspects of applying ML to enhance CAD of electronic chips and systems. Such aspects include, but are not limited to: algorithms, tools, example applications, benchmarking, data sources and management, and connections between ML and optimization.

Paper Submission

Submissions should be full-length papers of up to six pages (PDF format, double-column, US letter size, using the ACM format). Submissions must be anonymous to allow a double-blind review process. Submissions exceeding 6 pages will be rejected. Submitted papers must describe original work that has not been published/accepted or is currently under review. We encourage senior researchers as well as Ph.D. students to be part of the workshop.

Workshop Proceedings

Formal shared ACM/IEEE proceedings will be published containing all accepted papers. Accepted papers will be available in both IEEE Xplore Digital Library and ACM Digital Library.

General Chairs

Paul Franzon, North Carolina State University;
